RODRIGO LOPEZ RAZO

Full Stack Developer Lead

Full Stack software developer with about 12 years experience on backend and frontend development. Across my experience as developer I have developed a high sense of urgency, I have worked for companies where it is necessary to solve an issue in minutes, this has led me to have a great experience with errors or problems in production. I like to be updated with the new technologies for web applications or mobile applications. Currently I'm as leader of multicultural team. I always try to have a good communication with team to reach the objectives of project.
